

Cat's Anus 2010, Amelia Saul

my eyes cross paths with a black cat
in a shadow
slinking behind a dead tree grey trunk stuck deep in frozen winter muck and like light sabers
a spark erupts
I jump
the cat skedaddles
but not before sending me a psychic message: *your eyes extend all the way from your armpits through your neck and out from your armpits
they bond with an energetic hose that's other, danker end ties directly into my anus from this loop onwards we are bonded with the entire earthly animal kingdom* puzzled and moving my eyes left and right to see behind a burnt spot on my cornea where the light sabers sparked I followed the cat
under a rain spout
into someone's backyard which was completely covered with concrete and had no features I spotted the cat's tail disappear into a car port just before the garage door banged shut outside in suburbia with no car I considered my predicament and knew I a male
with a baseball hat on in someone's backyard must have looked like a sex predator which is amusing considering I, unlike the black cat disappeared into the bungalow the one with the cosmic anus do not have spines along the length of my penis
mine is smooth and made of human flesh a curtain moved in the house white with yellow tulips printed I knew I had been spotted I immediately got a hard on and turned nervously to the right the black cat lay before me on his back

I was struck that this animal could be designed like an accordion but still be paradoxically one of the most elegant creatures but when he opened long I felt betrayed when I saw the pure white belly he stretched open
merely a tuxedo
the cat said psychically just then, *this is the way I digest all the grass, mice, birds, cat food, blood, and tap water I've ingested today when I shit
you will feel a slight throb in your armpits nothing to be alarmed about it's only energetic*
I asked him psychically if your anus attaches to my armpits where does my anus go?
he asked
I could be wrong but it might fit quite nicely into the ears of the common housefly but it's best to test it out anyway
everyone is different*
